

Your child's safety is a top priority...

Car seats and boosters provide protection for infants and children in a car crash. But to be effective, you need the right car seat and you need to know how to use it.

Get a Free Car Seat

South Country Health Alliance (South Country) provides a free car seat to women who are at least 28 weeks or more into their pregnancy. It can also be provided after the baby is born. One car seat per child/member age 8 (7 years and 12 months) and younger.

South Country requires the parent or authorized representative to attend the car seat training and sign our Recipient Release form. Trainings are provided by county car seat technicians.

There are five car seats that members can choose from. See inside for details.

To get a free car seat, call your local Public Health Office and ask them about South Country's free car seat program and schedule your training session.
